

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE B15

THE WASHINGTON POST
10 June 1980

JACK ANDERSON

Intelligence Digest — Moslem powers Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Pakistan have brought secret pressure on Iran to return the American hostages, end the crisis and restore stability to the Persian Gulf region . . . The gentle Cambodian people are caught between their ancient enemies, the Vietnamese, and their recent oppressors, the Khmer Rouge. The latest intelligence reports indicate that the Khmer Rouge is gaining strength in the jungles of Cambodia . . . The Soviets are pouring so much firepower into Afghanistan that they have been unable to keep up their scheduled shipments to Vietnam, according to classified reports. This may have contributed to slowing the Vietnamese conquest of Cambodia.